Research Report

Researcher: Lourdes Metz

Research Title: EVP – Electronic Voice Phenomena (disembodied voices)
Research Date: 11/26/07	Report Date: 11/27/07
Start Time: 12:14 am	End Time: 12:34 am
Location: Home. Master Bathroom with closed doors.

Equipment

Digital Voice Recorder – Olympus VN-3100PC
EMF Detector – ELF-Zone Enzone
Compass - Engineer
Other: WavePad computer software to load the recording.

Other Tools to Assist the Research: Running water at low and steady level to be used as a White Noise. White Noise: A hiss-like sound, formed by combining all audible frequencies. Because white noise contains all frequencies, it is frequently used to mask other sounds. Running faucet water is a good source of white noise.

Environmental Conditions at Place of Research: Lights on in bathroom
A/C on at 76°
Another person sleeping at home

Local Weather

Precipitation: 10 %	Wind: ESE at 5-10 mph
Humidity: 83%
Temperature: 73 °F	Temperature, Feels Like: 73 °F
Current Moon: Waxing Gibbous – 91% Full
Solar X-ray: Normal	Geomagnetic Field: Quite
Other: n/a

Purpose:

To achieve accurate communication with disembodied voices with the use of a digital voice recorder. This time to try to contact communication with the EVP voice from the previous Monday.

Introduction:

The master bathroom is set up with running water, enough to create white noise for EVPs.

On the sink counter the EMF detector is placed and turned on. It detects a green light (Green light: Safe; Yellow light: Caution; Red light: Danger). The EMF or Electro-Magnetic Field detects any changes in the electro-magnetic field and paranormal manifestations can be detected and measured.

On the sink counter the Compass is placed and the marker is set to North. If any anomalies are detected the compass can detect it by shifting and turning the North pointer to either direction.

The Digital Voice Recorder is set on the sink counter with the microphone pointing to the running water. A wash cloth towel is placed under it to minimize any vibrations when turning on and off.

Observation During Experiment:

No changes on the EMF Detector or the Compass readings.

The bathroom atmosphere was calm at the beginning of the experiment.

12:23 am – I asked "Give me a sign that you're here." I immediately began feeling an unusual pressure in the bathroom.

12:29 am – I then asked to whoever was there to change the flow of the water and seconds later the water flow changed dramatically to the point that the steady flow of water moved its course to the left, emitting a very noticeable sound completely different from before. I asked to change back to the original flow but it did not. This incident might have been a coincidence but the probabilities that it was provoked by my question is very strong. Next week I will be concentrating my efforts into this episode to try to recreate at will with my questioning.

WavePad Track # 10:17 – I was touched in the back of my neck.

WavePad Track # 15:08 – The flow of water changed. The second person in the house was asleep. There was no physical reason, no flushing or use of water by any other house member.

Conclusion & Summary:

On the previous experiments there was not one time where the flow of water used as a white noise changed. On this occasion the experiment began exactly at 12:14 am and fifteen (15) minutes later, exactly at 12:29 am the flow of water changed only after my inquiry. It is a fact that the beyond uses all kinds of tools to acknowledge during spirit communication, especially when the inquirer asks specific questions. Under other circumstances I have might testify that this change is not relevant. Because of the action was immediately after the specific question I have to concur that it is relevant and considered as an answer from the beyond.

Not necessarily we receive disembodied voices as proof they are present. Sometimes rappings or knockings after an inquiry is very much accepted as proof, especially when instantaneous physical changes in and on the experimenter's body occur.

Track #14:47 – Lourdes: "Change the flow of water.. can you touch the water? Can you make it change?"

Track #15:08 – Recorder: The flow of water abruptly changed. I gave thanks for the acknowledgment. What it is heard in the background before this change is a steady flow of water from the faucet. The experiment does not begin until a complete steady flow of water is achieved.
